Walk 25 Saturday March 17th Kerridge and Rainowlow
A 7 mile undulating walk from Adlington Road car park

Although we have visited Bollington and this car park very recently, walkers can be assured that, although some tracks will be familiar from the February walk on Kerridge ridge, this is a very different walk.

Leaving the Middlewood Way our route crosses a number of low lying fields which were very muddy at the time of the recce. We then walk through the village of Kerridge and up a lane leading us to the base of White Nancy which we follow round. Eventually picking up the grit stone trail the route leads to Oakenbank and up to the hamlet of Rainowlow. We then cross more fields to meet a junction where we begin walking around the base of Billinge and some particularly attractive countryside and farms to reach the outskirts of Bollington.
